So...
You were unable to find out what they were talking about?

Yes. We couldn't...
But judging from the fact that she visits him every day, we think it might be something important.

I know a few men who'd be able to set up surveillance equipment, shall I organize that, sir?
Hm...

No... No...
That's not fitting for a gentleman like myself.

So Miss Madeleine goes to the Heart of A Companion clinic every day?
They even eat together?

Hey! Are they dating?!
...It doesn't necessarily seem like it.

.. really?

Watch them for a few more days
Make sure you don't get caught.
Yes, sir.

It's bothering me...

Is she at the clinic again?
What a morning...
Yes, sir.

Again?
I don't like vegetables...
Yes, sir.

Again?
WC Sigh...
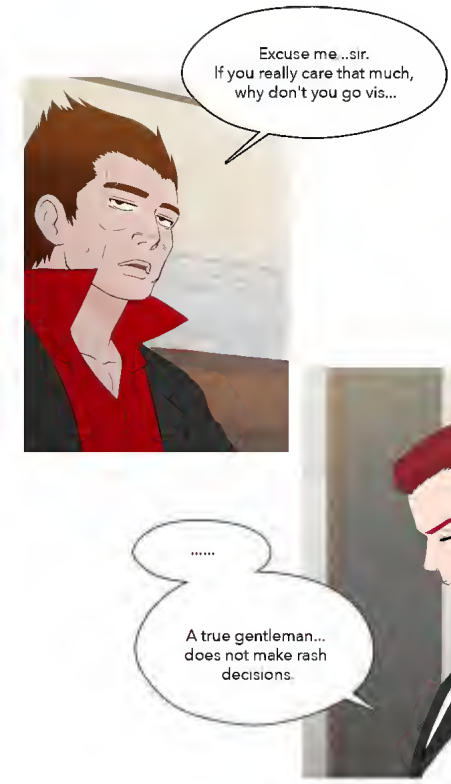
...Yes, sir.

.....

Ag...
Yes, sir.

.....



Excuse me...sir.
If you really care that much, why don't you go vis...
.....
A true gentleman... does not make rash decisions.

He must be justified for every word and action.
.....

...Ah.
The doctor called earlier today, he said he won't be able to treat Simba anymore.

What?
What are you talking about?

I don't know...
He hung up before I could say anything... He won't pick up...
I warned him once...

How...
...!

Then... I guess it's time to pay a visit? Right?
Yes, sir.
I've got the men ready outside.
I'll go get him.

No. No~
I think I'll personally take care of this.

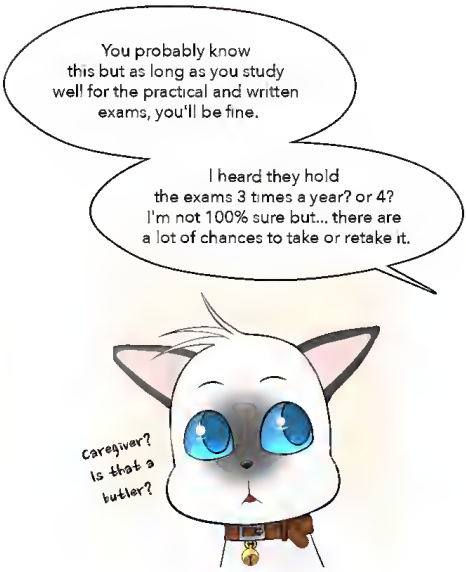
Since this is about Simba, I have to act like a gentleman.

A caregiver?
Yes.
I didn't graduate with a vet degree and I still don't know a lot...

I was thinking about studying but I also found that there were caregiver licenses.
What do you think?

I thought it might help me in the future so I wanted to prepare.

Good idea.
There are no qualification limits to getting a caregiver license and it also lets you work in a lot of different areas.



You probably know this but as long as you study well for the practical and written exams, you'll be fine.
I heard they hold the exams 3 times a year? or 4? I'm not 100% sure but... there are a lot of chances to take or retake it.
Caregiver? Is that a butler?

I can prepare for the written exam but... do you think it'll be possible to prepare for the practical exam on my own?

The practical exam ensures that you have experience in the field before you get the license so you don't need to worry at all.

Hmm...
But I don't know how to prepare.

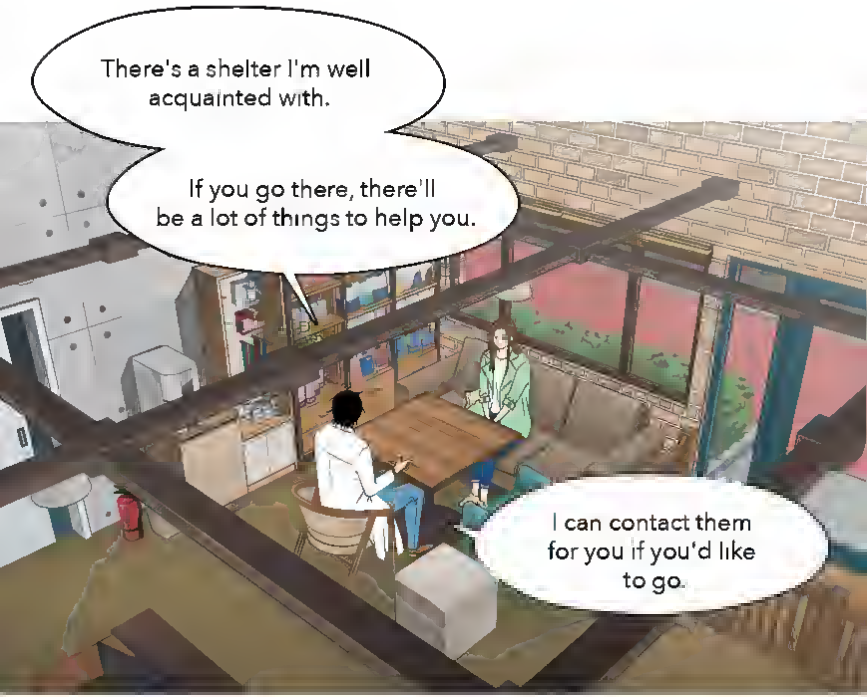
I can study for the written... But it's not directly interacting with animals...
Do you think there's any way for me to practice for the practical exam?

No need to rush.
It's important to start with a firm grasp on the basics.

I know but...
Books alone aren't enough, right?

Then would you like to go volunteer?

But...
Where...



There's a shelter I'm well acquainted with.
If you go there, there'll be a lot of things to help you.
I can contact them for you if you'd like to go.

Really?
Yes! I'd love to!!

It's still early in the morning...
I'll go there right now.

Ah?
Right now?

They do say
"strike the iron while it's hot."
I think I should go right now.

There is... such a saying.
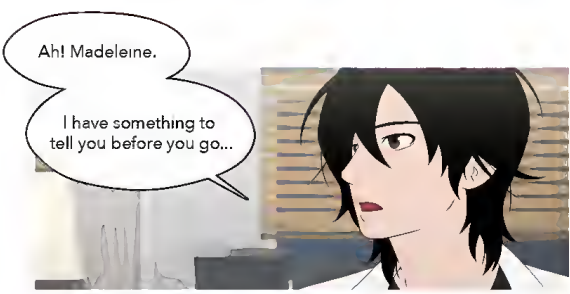
Short tempered.
True...
72 missed calls...

I'll see you tomorrow.
Huh? Yeah...



Ah! Madeleine.
I have something to tell you before you go...

Yes?

Where you're going isn't a pet shop.

You know... what I'm saying, right?
Ah... yes.

Do you have a car?
Car?
No. I don't.

It'll be hard to get there without a car... and taxi drivers won't want to drive out there...
Couldn't afford a car because he bought too many action figures and toys.

I can't send her on her own...
